REILLY'S RED MEN
LED TO SLAUGHTERElders Give Spokane a Fearful Beating.

UNABLE TO HIT ESSLICK

VISITORS OUT-PITCHED, OUT-BATTED AND OUT-FIELDED.

"The Saints defied us!"
"The Reillys who speak. He has just come from the box office and this is his first look at the score board." "Salt Lake, 11; Spokane, 1." says the board and only four innings gone.

With a great effort Reilly gathers himself. "Me lad," he says to a contiguous urchin, "Wud ye be good enough t' luk at th' score board an' tell me what it sez? 'Tis me eyes that is bad n' day."
"Eleven to one in favor of Salt Lake!" cries the kid.

The visitors getting only seven hits. The score:

Boise..... R. H. E.

Butte..... 1 2 0 0

Batteries—Thompson and Hauson.

Drigwater and Spencer.

FACTS FOR THE FANS.

The game this afternoon starts at 2 o'clock. Dammann is down to pitch for Spokane and Tozer for Salt Lake. Dam-mann has been doing things to the Enders lately, and Tozer has been doing likewise to Spokane, so a repetition of yesterday's mess is unlikely.

There will be two games played tomorrow. It has not been definitely settled whether both will be played in the afternoon for one admission or whether one will be played in the forenoon. The matter will be decided today.

Reilly and Rockenfield will try to get back in the game today. Reilly's foot and Rocky's finger are still a bit of the bad, but they are determined to take a small chance.

That pitching performance of Esslick's caused much talk in ball circles last night. Only three men faced him in each of five innings, and only thirty-two got up during the game. One of them was given a walk, five of them got singles and the others went out. It was one of the great pitching feats of the season, and the youngster earned all the congratulations he received.

Bruyette's hitting has been one of the features of the present series. He has averaged over .500 for the four games.
His hitting yesterday was 1.000. He came up five times, walked once and got three singles and a double. Bruyette's wonderful fielding has established him in Salt Lake, and he can just keep the hitting eye he has, he may ask for and receive anything he sees in the possession of the fans.

Delmas threw Murdoch out at the plate after an extra fine hit of last night.
Murdoch was on first when Stanley hit to Weed. Murdoch was too close to second to be caught, and by drilling him throw accurately, made it to third on the out. Then Forsythe hit to Delmas, and a perfect throw to Hansen killed the Spokane middle fielder when a run was only about three inches away.

Stanley's nerve saved Forsythe a wild pitch in the fourth inning. Forsythe hit at bat with a man on second and another on third. Forsythe threw one about four feet to the left of the plate. Without a second's hesitation Stanley stuck out his bare hand and snatched the ball, preventing a disastrous hit of business. This was the same hand that Stanley had used for the same purpose earlier in the series. Pretty good man, this Stanley.

Pred Weed beats Fred Clark to E. G.
MacElroy's 3rd by a narrow margin this evening. Weed was the first home run in the series, and Clark was the first home run in the series.

Twenty runs were scored yesterday in the first game. The score was 11 to 1.

FITZ AND O'BRIEN
COME TOGETHERRattling Bout in the Staid Old City of Brotherly Love.

KANGAROO IN GOOD FORM

NO DECISION RENDERED UNDER THE LAW.Philadelphia, July 23.—Jack O'Brien and Robert Fitzsimmons today fought the fastest six-round bout ever witnessed in this city between men of their weight. When the gong announced the close of the fight, both men were on their feet but both bore the marks of the grueling which they had just gone through. Fitzsimmons lips were twice bitten during the fight. O'Brien landed the greatest number of blows they did not do nearly so much damage as those landed by Fitzsimmons and the latter was the winner of the fight.

There was not a clean knock down during the bout, but three times O'Brien went to the floor, twice in endeavoring to get away from Fitzsimmons and the third time partly from Fitzsimmons' right, which landed on O'Brien's neck and partly through the latter's feet getting tangled. The judge was held on the National League ball grounds, the ring being pitched immediately over the home plate. It was the first open-air boxing exhibition ever given in this city and the novelty of the affair drew a crowd of about 5,000 persons. Mayor Weaver had previously given his permission for the fight, claiming that it was to be a prize fight and therefore illegal. Later the fight promoters went into the common place and satisfied the judges that it was to be a boxing exhibition and within the scope of the law. Under this agreement a permit was granted for the bout. There were many rumors that the men had an understanding not to exert themselves but such rumors were dissipated before the close of the first round.

There was a liberal sprinkling of women in the grand stand, and sitting close to the ringside was a young woman, who for the first time was to witness her husband fight. She never took her eyes off her husband during the six rounds and when Fitzsimmons sat down at the close of the fight his wife rushed over to his corner, climbed the steps leading to the ring and planted a kiss on the badly swell-en lips of her husband.

There were four preliminaries, which served to keep the spectators in good humor. First, a contest between Billy Lester, Benny Murphy, Joe Edmonston and Charley Savidge, his seconds, made his appearance. Seven minutes later O'Brien came on. He was looked after by Lew Bailey, Joe Hagan, Billy McGinnis and Billy Reynolds. A long wrangle ensued over the kind of bandages worn by Fitz. Underneath the strips of muslin were, O'Brien claimed, plaster bandages.
O'Brien said the bandages must come off or there would be no fight. Fitz replied:

"After keeping the spectators waiting for ten minutes Fitz removed the plaster. Each man selected his own gloves and at 1:28 they were called to the center of the ring by the referee and given their instructions.

Jimmy Hannivan, middle fielder of the Salt Lake club, was given his release yesterday. The reason given was that Hannivan is too high-priced to retain under present conditions, but there is no question about his ability as a hitter in the faster company, so that there is no reason why he should not again break into league ball when he gets right again. Reilly is looking for another pitcher to take his place in the series at Spokane next week. Meanwhile, Carney will help out with Dammann and Hagg.
